Five of the classic Macs in the Macintosh collection at the Republican office.

The Power Mac G4 is a series of personal computers designed, by Apple Computer, Inc. from 1999 to 2004. Built around the PowerPC G4 series of microprocessors, it was marketed by Apple as the first "personal supercomputers", reaching speeds of 4 to 20 gigaFLOPS.

The eMac, short for education Mac, is an all-in-one Macintosh desktop computer made by Apple Computer, Inc. Released in 2002, it was originally aimed at the education market

Apple iBook G3/300 (Original/Clamshell) introduced on July 21, 1999. The iBook was the first mainstream computer designed and sold with integrated wireless networking.

The Macintosh Plus computer is the third model in the Macintosh line, introduced on January 16, 1986 with a price tag of $2,599.

The iMac G3, originally released as the iMac, is a series of Macintosh personal computers designed, manufactured, and sold by Apple Computer, Inc. from 1998 to 2003. Noted for its innovative enclosure via the use of translucent and brightly colored plastics, This one pictured is in Bondi Blue

This is the 19th year for this special section devoted to the children and grandchildren of business owners (and sometimes their employees) in the Owensville, Rosebud, Gerald area.

Everyone loves children and we all adore the bright-eyed, charming and sometimes coquettish ones who are given their moment in the spotlight of the camera.

This section provides an opportunity to highlight the participating businesses and their services as well as to do a little “bragging” about these, the youngest of our business families, and, in some instances, also the future of our businesses.

We appreciate the patience and cooperation of these young children and their parents or grandparents, who, after all, provide the means whereby we can produce this section. Years from now, this and other sections to follow will provide some proud businessmen and their families many pleasant memories. Thanks to all of you for making this section possible.
