This is the 23rd year for this special section devoted to the children and grandchildren of business owners (and sometimes their employees).

Everyone loves children and we all adore the bright-eyed, charming and sometimes coquettish ones who are given their moment in the spotlight of the camera.

This section provides an opportunity to highlight the participating businesses and their services as well as to do a little “bragging” about these, the youngest of our business families, and, in some instances, also the future of our businesses.

We appreciate the patience and cooperation of these young children and their parents or grandparents, who, after all, provide the means whereby we can produce this section. Years from now, this and other sections to follow will provide some proud businessmen and their families many pleasant memories. Thanks to all of you for making this section possible.
